

Mercator-IPC Fellow Ömer Lütfi Şen published a report on "A Holistic View of Climate Change and Its Impacts in Turkey"

The report offers a compilation and analysis of existing data and studies on climate change in Turkey. Through change maps and projection scenarios, Şen elaborates on how changes in Turkey's climate will affect significant sectors such as agriculture, energy, and tourism. The report also provides policy makers with viable recommendations on the mitigation of the negative consequences of climate change.

Please click here to view the report.